

Government Will Probably Have To Borrow Around Nine Billion Dollars Next June

FRAZIER-LEMKE BILL IN LINE WITH PROGRAM

Will Only Prevent Foreclosures By Selfish Men

Washington, July 2.—(P)—W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, today took the view that refinancing of farm mortgage indebtedness by his organization had done away with any need for wide use of the Frazier-Lemke farm debt moratorium bill.

The moratorium measure was approved by President Roosevelt over the protest of representatives of insurance companies and other large holders of farm mortgage paper. The act gives debt-burdened farmers a chance to scale down their obligations through the federal court, or a five-year breathing spell if they are unable to reach an agreement with their creditors.

Myers' statement apparently was an attempt to reassure those who fear the law materially will reduce the value of farm mortgage paper.

He said the Frazier-Lemke amendment to the bankruptcy act is in accord with the program of the farm credit administration since it attempts to prevent occasional selfish creditors from foreclosing on distressed farm debtors.

In a review of farm credit work, Myers disclosed that loans and commitments would result in the government becoming the holder of mortgage indebtedness amounting to over $2,500,000,000 or more than 30 percent of the present estimated total of eight billion dollars in farm mortgages.

"Farmers as a class are very slow to take bankruptcy," Myers said, "and my experience in working with them personally and in the farm credit administration gives me every confidence that they still retain an ever-present urge to pay their debts."

More than 86 per cent of the installments on land bank commission loans, which generally have been made to the most heavily indebted farmers, which matured prior to June 1 were paid on or before they were due. This shows that even the most heavily indebted farmers are acting in good faith.

Myers said 90 cents out of every dollar loaned by the land bank and administered under the farm credit administration "have gone to pay farmers in a position where they are not in need of bankruptcy."

"The total farm mortgage loans and commitments made under the refinancing program," he said, "will raise the total outstanding loans of the land bank and the land bank commission to more than $2,500,000,000 in a few months so that they will become holders of over 30 per cent of the total farm mortgage indebtedness in the United States, now placed at eight billion dollars."

ARREST TRIO

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—Three persons were arrested today as they paraded in front of the offices of the German Consul here carrying banners protesting the Hitler execution. Lincoln Park police held them on an ordinance prohibiting the display of banners without a permit.

WEATHER

For Jacksonville and vicinity: Partly cloudy Tuesday and Wednesday, local thunderstorms probable, the forecast issued last night. It will not be quite so warm today, the observer claims.

The U. S. Cooperative Weather Bureau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night gave temperatures as: high 100; current 93 and low 56. Barometer readings were: A. M. 30.23; P. M. 30.13.

Illinois: Partly cloudy Tuesday and Wednesday, local thunderstorms probable, not quite so warm Tuesday in north portion.

Indiana: Partly cloudy Tuesday and Wednesday, with scattered thunderstorms; not quite so warm Tuesday in extreme north portion.

Wisconsin: Fair to partly cloudy, not so warm Tuesday; Wednesday unsettled, some prospects of local showers.

Missouri: Partly cloudy and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday, except possibly scattered thunderstorms.

Iowa: Somewhat unsettled Tuesday and probably Wednesday, with some local showers or thunderstorms; rather warm.

Washington, July 2.—(P)—The government probably will have to borrow around nine billion dollars the year ending next June to meet maturing debt and provide for the almost one billion dollar spending program projected by President Roosevelt.

Maturing obligations will exceed five billion dollars, and the prospective excess of expenditures over receipts, counting RFC refunds in the latter, will be in the same neighborhood.

Treasury officials said today the abnormally high cash balance of $2,581,922,240 likely would be drawn on to take care of at least one billion dollars of expenditures. Barring use of the treasury's gold devaluation profit, this would leave roughly nine billion dollars of financing, with four billion representing new money lent by the public.

Express Confidence

They expressed confidence not only that this could be achieved without difficulty, but that a reduction below the current 3.18 per cent average interest rate paid on government obligations would result.

All but a billion of the maturing debt must be refunded within the first six months, including $1,246,231,000 of fourth Liberty four and a quarter's which have been called for redemption October 15 out of a total of $4,300,000,000 outstanding.

This is one of the places where the government hopes to save money on interest charges by offering refunding bonds with a substantially lower coupon. In addition, $555,981 of first Liberty four and one quarter's are callable December 15, provided notice is given three months earlier, and given favorable market conditions, it is believed the treasury will seriously consider taking these up and replacing them with lower-coupon securities.

Liberty three and a half per cent bonds totaling $1,329,236,350 similarly are callable, but as this coupon is closer to the current yield on government bonds it does not offer the same inducement for retirement, particularly at a time when the treasury is faced with heavy borrowing of new money.

Although the general policy of the treasury is to avoid having too high a percentage of its debt in short term obligations, the exceptionally favorable terms it has been able to obtain for brief periods have encouraged the sale of bills. As an example, a recent offering, due in 1935, was sold at a discount to yield 37 of one per cent.

In other words, a buyer of $1,000 worth of such obligations received a return on his investment that would figure 70 cents a year.

'BOGUS MONEY' GANG BROKEN UP BY FEDERAL MEN

Officials Claim Trip Shop Discovered In Chicago

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—Fifteen men and five women were in custody tonight as the result of a drive by the secret service to break up a gang blamed for disposal of some $75,000 in bogus money in the Midwest.

The reputed leader of the mob, Ben V. Rais, was first arrested and arraigned today before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walter and held on bonds of $20,000. Joseph Lisicantello, accused by federal agents as co-leader of the gang, was held in similar bond.

Others, secret service men disclosed, have been apprehended in Milwaukee, Kenosha, Wis., Gary, Ind., and Chicago. Two men, Joseph Katosh and Sam Greco, were held here on bail of $5,000 each. The others supposedly were detained in Milwaukee, Kenosha, and Gary.

Much secrecy surrounded the roundup of the suspects. For two weeks, Edmond Sullivan, assistant federal district attorney, said, the secret service had worked quietly after receiving a tip from Indiana police. The first arrests followed soon after, and others were made almost daily.

The gang, according to the prosecutor, preyed mostly on saloons and gasoline filling stations, making purchases with spurious $10 bills and being content with the change for profit. In small country stores, particularly in Illinois and Indiana, were also victimized.

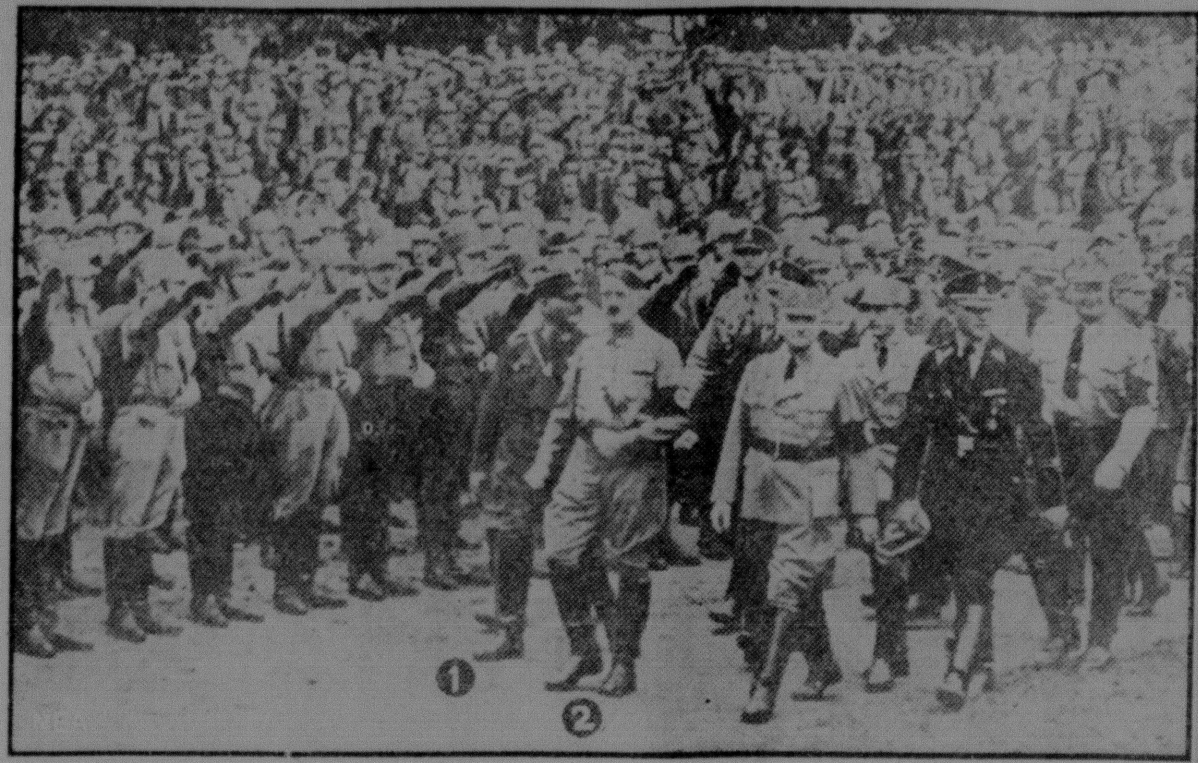

In a barn back of Rais's home in Cook county, authorities said they discovered several engraving plates, a supply of ink and paper, and a few of the counterfeit bills.

Sullivan said evidence tended to show that Rais sold the bogus $10 bills to the gang at $2 a piece for distribution. The agents said that in raiding the place they discovered spurious bills totaling several hundred thousand dollars in face value. The agents said some of the gang had confessed.

LETTER CARRIERS MEET

Streator, Ill., July 2.—(P)—More than 300 Illinois postmen met here today for the 36th annual convention of the letter carriers of Illinois and its auxiliary.

Before Mutiny Separated Hitler and Storm Troop Chief

Ironie in light of subsequent developments is this picture showing Adolf Hitler (2) and his close friend, Capt. Ernst Roehm (1) walking shoulder to shoulder during a review of Storm Troopers, of whom Roehm was leader. In the recent uprising Roehm committed suicide after Hitler himself had arrested him and stripped him of power.

SAMUEL INSULL ENTERS PLEA OF 'NOT GUILTY' Hundreds Summarily Executed In Adolf Hitler's Ruthless Suppression Of Nazi Revolt

Former Utility King Appears In Fine Health

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson heard Samuel Insull plead not guilty today to a charge of fraudulent use of the mails and then took under advisement a motion for a bill of particulars made in behalf of the former utilities magnate and his co-defendants.

Insull, appearing in better health and higher spirits than at any time since his return from Turkey, remained in the warm court room during the arguments of U. S. District attorney Dwight Green and his own counsel, Floyd E. Thompson. The judge indicated a decision would be handed down next Monday.

Thompson contended it was necessary that the defense be furnished a full list of witnesses and other particulars because the accusations were based on huge and extensive business transactions. Green and his assistants declared the defendants would all the government's evidence which would place the prosecution at a disadvantage.

Judge Wilkerson set July 11 for oral arguments on another indictment charging Insull and his co-defendants with bankruptcy law violations. The fraud case grew out of the collapse of the corporation securities company of Chicago, and Green said the government wished to try Insull on the count first. The erstwhile financier already has pleaded not guilty to state charges of embezzlement.

Crown Point, Ind., July 2.—(P)—Indictments charging Samuel Insull, Jr., and three others with switching funds of one Insull company to others, during the time Samuel Insull, Sr., was hitting rough financial weather, were dropped today in criminal court here.

The four were officials of the Northern Indiana Public Service Co. Earlier in the day, Judge Maurice E. Crites had erased similar charges against Charles W. Chase, president of the Indianapolis Street Railways, and Thomas G. Hamilton, vice president of the Gary Railways.

The cases against Chase and Hamilton were dropped on the recommendation of prosecutor Robert G. Estill, who said investigation had cleared them of suspicion. The charges against the other four were quashed on a ruling by Judge Crites that the jury which indicted them had been "unduly influenced" by Judge William J. Murray, who instructed the jurors and later testified before them.

The indictments, naming Insull, Chase, Hamilton, Edward Lloyd and Bernard P. Shearon of Gary, and Morse Delplaine of Hammond, the company president, were returned after Howard Duncan, former treasurer of the utility company, promised to "blow the lid off" of company affairs following his indictment for embezzling $132,000.

Duncan received a sentence of 1 to 5 years, but it was suspended by Judge Murray. It was reported that he testified before the jury which indicted the Insull company officials. A seventh indictment man, John Gulick of Chicago, has since died.

CINNAMON BEAR FOUND IN LAKE

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—First it was a sea lion—now it's a bear.

Only two weeks after the city's beaches settled down from a sea lion scare, a park policeman today found a cinnamon bear cub floating near the shore.

Fisherman were in a dither over the sea lion until it was found to be a ba by seal, but there was no myth about the bear cub. His body was found before rumor had time to inflate him into some neolithic monster.

From the city's 2008 no bears were reported missing, so the cub's body was taken to the dead animal pound.

SIXTY GERMANS ARE KILLED BY FIRING SQUAD

Are Convicted After Three Minute Trials

Berlin, July 2.—(P)—The story of how sixty rebellious storm troopers were executed with unhandgunned eyes in an old cadet school in a Berlin suburb was told today by a man who obviously was a member of Chancellor Hitler's firing squad.

The man, a member of the Schutz Staffel, special Blackshirted Guards, whispered his story of sixty executions after making certain that no eavesdropper could hear.

Before the executions there was a trial for each "traitor" before a court of three men, under the chairmanship of Heinrich Himmler, chief of secret police. Another judge was a high ranking officer of the Schutz Staffel and another came from the Reichswehr (army).

Each man was given three minutes before the judges, and each was sentenced to death, although some were given an opportunity to commit suicide.

"The men were judged and condemned in three minutes," said the witness, "and were disposed of shortly after that."

"From the tribunal they were taken before the firing squad as the drums rolled to drown out the shots."

"All died without bandages over their eyes—all refused to be blinded," Ernst and Strasser (Karl Ernst, storm troop leader, and Gregor Strasser) were shot there. (In the cadet school).

"Ernst as he turned toward the squad cried 'I am innocent. Heil Hitler! Heil Germany!'"

"Men with meritorious records were given the privilege as was Roehm. (Ernst Roehm, cabinet minister and supreme leader of the troops) to commit suicide, but few accepted."

"The execution of one S. A. leader named Ehrdt was held up momentarily by the arrival of an order from Hitler giving him the right to choose suicide or the firing squad."

"Ehrdt was an aviator and held the highest military decorations. For this reason the chancellor extended him the favor."

"But Ehrdt refused to shoot himself, proclaiming he was innocent."

The eye-witness said the strain of the ordeal caused him to leave the place after he had seen sixty shot, intimating that many more than that number fell in the cadet school at Lichtersdorf.

The school was established in 1717, and is a castle-like structure, which was used in monarchical days for training of officers.

The circumstances of the killing of General Kurt von Schleicher and his wife in their home near Babelsburg, the Hollywood of Germany, were related by another eye witness.

social and political life were in custody, but their whereabouts was not revealed.

Major Muelndner von Muelheim, for many years adjutant to the former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, was arrested because of his friendship for General Kurt von Schleicher, killed with his wife while "resisting arrest" Saturday.

'KILL-CRAZY' MANIAC SLAYS THIRD WORKER

Fires Into Milliard And Then Dashes Toward River

Steuvenville, O., July 2.—(P)—Terror lurks again in the dark recesses of the five-square mile millyard of the Wheeling Steel Corporation.

A kill-crazy maniac, the slayer of three workmen, is at large, casting his phantom shadow over the plant and its 3,000 employees.

Suddenly and stealthily the killer struck for the third time early today while scores of special guards patrolled the millyard.

He fired four times, killing two workers. Then he fled, halting momentarily beneath a light to jump in and down and, said the workers who saw him, "to scream like an ape," in signal of his latest kill.

Dashes Toward River

Leaving panic behind, the man, who dresses like a laborer, dashed toward the Ohio river and vanished. Where he went, none knew. Why he killed, none knew. When he might strike again, none knew.

He left only confusion among company and county officials who for six months have sought to track him down.

The latest victims were William Messer, 30, and Ray Kockendorfer, 38, employees of the Open Hearth department. Fred Melshimer, 38, a railroad brakeman, was killed Jan. 30, while on March 21 James Barnett, 28, another brakeman, was wounded critically. "Only last week, Barnett left a hospital."

Efforts to trace the shootings to a discharged employe have met with failure. In the last several weeks, more than a hundred homes have been searched but in none could officials find the .38 calibre weapon that dealt death so ruthlessly.

CLAIM OFFICERS RECEIVED FUNDS FROM OUTSIDERS

'Very Interesting' Disclosures Are Promised

By Clarence M. Wright
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, July 2.—(P)—New evidence said to promise "very interesting disclosures" that several army officers had received money from commercial firms was analyzed today by the house military affairs committee.

Representative Kvale (F-L, Minn.) the only member of the committee in town, declined to discuss the new information in detail. He said, however, committee investigators recently found records showing Colonel Joseph I. McMullen was not the only army officer to receive money from outside sources.

Committee investigators returned last week after going through the files of Atwater Kent Radio company, the Cuban American Manganese company, and other concerns in Philadelphia and New York.

Tomorrow the committee will hear a representative of Atwater Kent. He was invited to testify primarily about Colonel McMullen's work for the company for which the officer received several thousand dollars.

McMullen has told the committee he advised Atwater Kent in a patent case and did some work for the Cuban American Manganese company concerning mining properties in California.

Kvale said the names of the other officers who received pay for outside work would not be divulged until the committee had time to make further investigation.

As the new evidence was being prepared for the committee's record, Kvale referred in a statement to the recent committee report recommending that Major General Benjamin D. Foulis be removed as army air corps chief.

Emphasizing that he was expressing only his personal views and not those of the committee, Kvale said although Foulis "did deliberately violate the law," he did so "sincerely believing he was acting for the best good of the air corps."

Kvale said that by accusing Foulis of "dishonesty" the committee did not mean "financial dishonesty."

INDIAN CHIEF BURIAL

Wewoka, Okla., July 2.—(P)—Red man and white paid final honors today to Jacob Harrison, 94-year-old former Seminole Indian chief, the last male survivor of the band of Seminoles who came to Oklahoma over the historic "Trail of Tears" in 1857.

The aged Indian died Saturday at the home of his daughter, Katie Davis, near Seminole. Funeral services were held here today.

Harrison fought in the Confederate army under Colonel McIntosh, Creek leader, and was a deputy U. S. Marshall under President Cleveland.

Republican Party Thru Its Chairman, Accepts 'New Deal' As Issue In Fall Elections

WAR DEPARTMENT WILL ADVERTISE FOR MOTOR BIDS

Henry Ford Must Sign Letter To Make Him Eligible

Washington, July 2.—(P)—The Republican party, through its national chairman, Henry P. Fletcher, tonight accepted the new deal as the issue in the fall elections.

Fletcher in a nation-wide radio speech, asserted the new deal was a proposition that had been "repudiated and overthrown" by the declaration of independence.

"The Republican party accepts the issue of the new deal," he said, in announcing a drive for election of Republican congressmen to combat administration policies. Asserting the broad issue in the approaching elections is the right of the people to govern themselves, Fletcher added.

"In spite of lip service to Democratic ideals, the leaders of the party in power know in their hearts the new deal is not Democratic. It does not come from the people."

Much of Fletcher's address was in the nature of a reply to President Roosevelt's "fireside talk" to the American people last week. He suggested the following as the reply of the average American to the president's inquiry as to whether he was better off today than a year ago:

"I am perhaps better off than last year, but when I see the vast sums expended and authorized to be expended by the government I ask myself will I be better off when the tax bill comes in and how about my children and my children's children."

"My debts insofar as they have been assumed by the government, that is, by the whole people, are less burdensome to me and insofar as the government has postponed them they are less heavy for the moment."

"My bank account, if any, is more secure, but I am not sure how much my money is going to be worth when I come to need it."

"My working conditions are as good as ever, if not indeed better, but I am not sure how long my work will last when the government stops making work."

"My faith in my own individual future is not more firmly guaranteed because it no longer depends upon my own free efforts, but upon the regulatory schemes of the government bureaucracy."

Referring briefly to the president's comparison between the administration program and the remodeling of the executive offices along present architectural lines, Fletcher replied: "But it is not the outside of a public building which controls the thoughts and theories of those who work behind beautiful facades. A famous mosque in Constantinople was once a Christian church."

Fletcher said the fall elections would bring to a close "one of the most important political campaigns waged in this country since the foundation of our government."

Fletcher conceded the Republicans were entering the campaign under a handicap. Pointing to the broad power and the immense funds available to the administration, he said "we can appreciate what they are doing to sell the new deal to the American people or impose it upon them."

"Any government which gets into its hands the accumulated savings of its people," he added, "can by their expenditure create the illusion of prosperity, and provide temporary jobs for the unemployed. But this is entirely artificial. It does not and cannot form a solid foundation on which to rebuild our economic structure."

Indicating some of the points which the Republicans will stress in the campaign, Fletcher cited the failure to settle the war debt problem, what he called "a miserable fiasco" at the London economic conference, and the absence of increased trade with Russia despite the recognition of the Soviet government.

MARIE DRESSLER HOLDS HER OWN

Santa Barbara, Calif., July 2.—(P)—Marie Dressler took solid food today for the first time in more than two weeks.

A bulletin issued tonight by Dr. Franklin R. Nuzum, her chief physician, said: "A restless day. Has taken solid food for the first time in over two weeks. Temperature averaged 100.6 degrees."

Attendants said the 62-year-old film actress had been unable to read any of the hundreds of messages she had received expressing hope for her recovery.

Miss Dressler apparently has been holding the ground gained after last Thursday night, when he physicians had expressed fear that death was imminent. They still hold no hope for her recovery.

PREMIER SAITO'S CABINET RESIGNS

Tokyo, July 3.—(Tuesday)—(P)—Premier Saito today submitted to Emperor Hirohito the resignations of himself and all members of his cabinet. The premier informed the emperor the cabinet assumed responsibility for the financial scandal involving Hideo Kuroda, vice minister of finance.

The emperor immediately summoned Prince Saioji, elder statesman, from his villa in the country. He said he desired to confer with the prince before making a decision, and that an announcement of the choice of a successor to the premier will be made tomorrow.

Among the Arenville visitors here yesterday was Mrs. Thomas Coyle.

Our Nation's Birthday

Our second president, John Adams, poured out his very soul in support of the Declaration of Independence before the document was signed. We quote herewith:

"But whatever may be our fate, be assured that this Declaration will stand. It may cost treasure, and it may cost blood, but it will stand, and it will surely compensate for both. Through the thick gloom of the present, I see the brightness of the future, as the sun in heaven. We shall make this a glorious, an immortal day. When we are in our graves, our children will honor it. They will celebrate it with thanksgiving, with festivity, with bonfires and illuminations. On its annual return, they will shed tears, agonizing tears, not of submission and slavery, not of agony and distress, but of exultation, gratitude and joy. Sir, before God, I believe the hour is come. My judgment approves this measure, and my whole heart is in it. All that I have, and all that I am, and all that I hope, in this life, I am now ready here to stake upon it. And I leave off as I began, that live or die, survive or perish, I am for the Declaration. It is my living sentiment, and by the blessing of God it shall be my dying sentiment.

"Independence now, and Independence forever."

There is not a real American who does not thrill at the story of how colonial leaders affirmed their signatures to the Declaration of Independence—the document which gave birth to our mighty nation. Let us stimulate a greater spirit of patriotism, and thereby deal telling blows to those in America who seek to undermine our constitution.

Two Philosophers Meet

A banquet Saturday night in Topeka, Kansas, two famous American philosophers met and one introduced the other. William Allen White, Emporia editor, presented Ed Howe, paragrapher, to an audience in his home town. It was a gala night for homespun philosophy, the kind for which Kansas and Indiana are famous.

White said that Howe was a man of square courage and common sense, which is about the best that can be said of anybody. If it's really true, he said Howe lived the common man when he showed common sense, but otherwise not. We have sometimes noticed that people who boast of common sense and demand so much of it in others seldom display any themselves. That's our own brand of philosophy, Mr. White. You can have it for what it's worth.

Mr. Howe in his speech admitted that he could not make one any red paragraphs, in one of which he referred to government of the people, by the people and for the people, as "one of Abraham Lincoln's jokes." Well, Ed, if it was a joke, it was uttered during a mighty serious time, and a lot of people have believed it. If that's the best philosophy a Kansan can produce, it is not much wonder Editor White found so many things the matter with that state back in 1896.

But if the government Lincoln described is a joke, we would like to know it. We have tried that sort of government for about 150 years, and we don't want to continue making mistakes any longer. Now, Mr. Howe, if you'll kindly step up and tell another kind of government that is not a joke, we might try it. We note that Mr. Hitler has been joking with some of his best friends under fascism. He shot them.

Over in Italy Mr. Mussolini played a big joke on the man who brought the Italian air fleet over here and took it back. He sent him out to govern a small colony and he should become too powerful in Rome.

All joking aside, Ed, we are still willing to live by the ideals of the man who called a stricken nation to resolve that government of the people, by the people and for the people, and we believe that the people whose government this is, by the blood of the men who died for it and by the votes of the men who live for it, are willing to pledge their last dollar and their last man to see that it does not perish from the earth. But that is a paragraph and see how you like it.

One Haun'dawg—$3,500

Over in Paris, Mo., there is a damage suit on Harry Chapman in suing P. W. McKinley for $3,500, the price of a valuable foxhound. McKinley is alleged to have shot Chapman's dog. The plaintiff asks $1,500 damages for the death of the dog and $2,000 punitive damages because he suffered injuries in a fist fight with McKinley after the shooting of the dog.

"Don't make no difference if it is a noun. You're pella quit kickin' my dawg around?" was once a rather popular song hit. Many a man has fought to preserve the honor of his dog, and many a dog fight has ended in the death of one of the owners.

All this sounds very foolish and perhaps it is. Certainly the life of a man is worth far more than that of a dog, and it is hard to see how one dog could be worth $1,500. Men have a way of making a big fuss over small matters, and it is very likely the court suit will cost both these Missouri men plenty before they are done with it. It has already caused enough ill feeling to start a feud.

Most difficulties between men and nations arise over apparently insignificant matters. It is unfortunate that such disputes cannot be viewed with calmness and settled amicably.

The Nation Watches

President Roosevelt is aboard a United States warship on the open sea. He is embarking on his vacation to visit American possessions in both the Atlantic and Pacific. A watching nation hopes he will come back safely and that all will be well with him and with affairs of state while he is away from the seat of government.

Altho we know that the President during his trip, there is nevertheless a slight anxiety among the people. These are critical times in the world, and there are vast undercurrents of unrest and discontent. Somehow the American tradition that a President should not go outside the United States does not lessen the feeling of uneasiness.

President Wilson went abroad, and the results were anything but auspicious. It is pointed out that Presidents in the early days took longer back trips more extensive, according to the times than that of the President today.

Mr. Roosevelt will be away from the capital only a month and a few days. He will be in constant touch with Washington. He will be constantly under the protection of American bluejackets and the secret service. Even so, when he lands back in Washington after his trip, the nation will experience a feeling of relief.

The Negative Appeal

One of the big motor companies has just completed a most interesting experiment in "the art of human understanding." Two hundred questionnaires were sent out, then revisions were made in the copy and the questionnaires were again submitted to the same correspondents. But this time one hundred letters invited reactions and included stamped self-addressed envelopes for reply, while the other 100 asked merely for personal. The letter concluded:

"We wouldn't think of asking you to bother with another one and are not even enclosing a return envelope."

Of the first group there were but 21 replies, but of the second group, the uninvited ones, there were 72.

"Company officials term this 'Prof. James Harvey Rogers of Yale, Roosevelt's monetary adviser. Thorp helped develop the new American foreign trade policy."

Housing Act To Thaw Credit

How the individual home owner may apply the national housing act, recently before congress, and what steps he may take if he wants to get funds to modernize his home, are explained simply in Good Housekeeping in an article by Mary Margaret McBride.

"If you wish to make improvements on your home and have not the ready cash for the purpose, you will be able to go to your bank or some designated agency in your community and make application for a loan," she says. "If the application is approved, you will get your money, Uncle Sam having made himself responsible for your ability and intention to pay back the loan in a specified time with reasonable interest in the meantime."

"The government does not lend you personally, the cash for fixing your roof, or building your new porch. It merely insures a certain per cent of the advance which comes directly from your bank or some local institution qualified to make such loans."

"The President's idea all along has been to thaw private credit for the benefit of this scheme. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of private capital will be lent at fair interest through banks and other organizations to the home owner. The use of a mutual insurance principle will allow lenders of this money to guarantee, with government help, their own loans."

The national government's concern with the home owners' repairs, and why the President himself has been so interested in this bill, is because of the psychological effect these improvements will have, not only on the home owner himself, but on the community as a whole, and the idle dollar it will put back in circulation.

SO THEY SAY!

I just growed old and didn't know it.

The New Deal in Washington

Thorp Kicked Upstairs at Dizzy Speed . . . Horse Traffic Light Is Unusual Gadget . . . No AAA Shower Baths for Women . . . Tugwell Is Slave to Hay Fever

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 2.—The success story of Dr. Willard Thorp becomes more astonishing day by day.

This youthful Amherst professor asked for bread and the Senate gave him a stone. Now he turns up with an armful of blueberry muffins.

Thorp, you recall, served nine months as director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, only to have his confirmation blocked by some politically-minded Democratic senators, led by Hubert Stephens of Mississippi.

Roosevelt withdrew his nomination and has been making handsome amends ever since.

First, the president refused to accept Thorp's resignation from the Federal Alcohol Control Administration and one or two lesser boards to which he had been appointed during his directorship.

Then, without any announcements, one learned successively that Thorp had become an expert for the NRA Consumers' Advisory Board, first secretary and then vice chairman of the important new NRA Advisory Council, and the selection of Roosevelt and Frank Walker for a bigger and better job with the National Emergency Council.

Now, on top of all that—and again without any announcement—Thorp receives as high a tribute as could be paid to any American economist. He will be the American member of the economic committee of the League of Nations, which meets at Geneva July 17.

Thorp goes as a private citizen, since he is not in the league. He goes on league invitation and at league expense. But every insider knows the league doesn't invite a fellow without getting recommendations from Washington.

The previous American member was Prof. James Harvey Rogers of Yale, Roosevelt's monetary adviser. Thorp helped develop the new American foreign trade policy.

The committee considers trade problems, world economics, tariff and trade agreements, recommending matters for league consideration.

It represents but 15 nations and consists mostly of government officials—such as Sir P. W. Leith Ross, Britain's chief economic adviser—who will run Thorp ragged with questions about NRA, AAA, and the rest of the New Deal.

In August Thorp will go with NEC as the New Deal's Number One Man on prices, price-fixing problems, and consumer protection.

Magic Traffic Light

There's a remarkable gadget at Pierce Mill in Rock Creek Park, where a boulevard crosses the bridge path over which generals, debutantes, Mrs. Roosevelt and Anna Dell go galloping.

Several invisible rays cross the park. When a horse goes in their way, a contact is formed which flashes a red light on the boulevard five seconds later, stopping all motorists.

Lots of pedestrians try to make the device work by walking through the rays. But it takes a horse.

Another Outrage

Latest New Deal outrage: The AAA multiphotograph section, where work is frightfully hot, has installed shower baths. But only for men. None for women.

Senator J. Ham Lewis of Illinois has a favorite form of endeavor for visiting job lobbyists. It's "Chick-on."

The White House has made about 150,000 telephone calls in the last year and received more than 500,000. More than 100,000 telegrams passed over its special wires, coming and going.

The flower and candy businesses here are going strong. Many bosses in the emergency agencies buy them to make stenographers feel better while working overtime.

Tugwell Hay Fever Victim

Senator Ed Smith's classic remark as to Rex Tugwell—"Throw him into a cotton field and he'd starve to death"—has been popularly revised since word leaked that Tugwell is so susceptible to hay fever that the doctor won't let him eat even white bread. Smith, one hears, should have said: "Throw him into a hay field and he'd sneeze to death."

Julia N. Hamilton Expires at Chapin

Mrs. Julia N. Hamilton, widow of the late Francis M. Hamilton, passed away at 7:35 o'clock Sunday evening at her home in Chapin. She was a lifetime resident of that community. She was born Nov. 20, 1857, a daughter of William and Sarah Shelton Hamilton. Her husband preceded her in death February 8, 1911.

Surviving are one daughter, Miss Adella Hamilton, of Chapin; one brother, James Hamilton, of Bluffs; and one sister, Mrs. Belle Breckner, Richville, Mo.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Chapin Christian church, Rev. R. L. Cartwright officiating. Interment will be made in the Chapin cemetery.

BELGIUM SALUTES ANOTHER ALBERT

Christened in the palace at Brussels with royal pomp and splendor, baby Prince Albert of the Belgians was given the name of his grandfather, the late King Albert. He is shown in this first picture of him to reach America with his admiring sister and brother, Princess Josephine Charlotte and Prince Baudouin. They are children of King Leopold III and Queen Astrid.

Extend Time of Pet. Doll Registration

Evelyn and Godfrey Coons opened the Fourth of July Pet Show at the State hospital with the first registration at the Public Library. They offer some real competition, too, for Godfrey believes he has the largest dog and the queerest kitten, while Evelyn believes she has the cutest kitten as well as a canary that will rival any other in the markings.

Percy Salice was next to enter the show, but his entries offer no competition of Evelyn and Godfrey. He will show his poodles, rabbits, and a puppy.

Marie Lefteridge, who is a very little girl, made the opening entry in the doll show with her doll buggy which she will push in the parade. Mina McCarty came second with an old-fashioned doll and cradle.

Registration time has been extended for the benefit of those with incomplete plans for the Fourth. Six o'clock Tuesday evening which is closing time in the juvenile department, will end entries at the library, but on the morning of the Fourth as many more may enter as there is space for. Early registration will be appreciated by the committee and workers to save confusion and to insure proper housing for all entries.

FIND STOLEN SEDAN BADLY DAMAGED

Missing since early morning on June 28, a Ford V-8 sedan, owned by Dr. Thomas Buckthorpe was found by the police Sunday morning on West Morton avenue, where it was abandoned. The car was considerably damaged and bore evidence of hard usage.

Night Captain Mann and Patrolman Strawn were cruising in the police car when they spotted the abandoned sedan. Investigation showed that it was the Ford which was stolen from the Buckthorpe garage on Grove street last Thursday morning about 1 o'clock.

Both fenders were badly bent, the bumpers broken and hub caps battered. The speedometer showed the car had been run about 1,200 miles since it left the garage.

When found the machine was parked near the north gate of the State hospital grounds.

RETURN TO VIRGINIA

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Killinger returned to their home in Marion, Va., after visiting the past several weeks with Mrs. Killinger's father, John E. Pires, 604 East College avenue.

RETURNS FROM DAYTON

Miss Helen McGinnis, stenographer in the state's attorney's office, has returned to her duties after a week's vacation spent in Dayton, O., where she visited her brother, J. S. McGinnis and family.

WILL ROGERS says:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:

Sanita Monica, Calif., July 2.—Well, the President leaves on his cruise about what must be Jesse James boat, for he called the Houston. I expect that guy Hitler would like to be on a boat headed somewhere about now.

Germany has some sort of a custom where they allow you to commit suicide in case you have been found to be against the government, over here we just let you go on making speeches, and it amounts to about the same thing in the end.

Well they finally got that Astor wedding over with, there ain't nothing that will do more to add comedy relief to our reading of strikes, wars, revolutions, and world uncertainty, than to read about a society wedding.

Yours, WILL

JOHN BEATTY DIES

IN HENDLEY, NEBR.

White Hall, July 2.—Relatives in White Hall received word early Sunday morning of the death of John Beatty at his home in Hendley, Neb., which occurred at 3 o'clock that morning. His daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Fleet Barnett and daughter Jean, have been at his bedside since the middle of May.

Mr. Beatty was born in Christian county seventy-four years ago and for years farmed in the vicinity of Puna and Ocarneo and also lived in Taylorville and has a number of relatives in Christian county and Greene county. He is survived by his wife who before her marriage was Miss Ida Van Dyke; three sons, Frank, Archie, and Paul of Nebraska; two daughters, Mrs. Velma Howard living in Nebraska and Mrs. Fleet Barnett in White Hall. Mrs. A. L. Vermillion of White Hall is a sister-in-law, and S. C. Sykes, William Vermillion, and A. L. Vermillion of this city are brothers-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Beatty had been married fifty years on June 19. Funeral services will be held in Hendley Tuesday afternoon.

I.M. Bunce Observes 79th Birthday Here

Sunday marked the seventy-ninth birthday of I. M. Bunce which was observed quietly by members of the family at his home, 250 Vandalla road. There was no celebration, because of the fact that Mr. Bunce is recovering from an extended illness.

However, he was able to enjoy a large birthday cake presented to him by Theodore Bengtschneider, a longtime friend gained through the game of roque, in which Mr. Bunce has always had a deep interest.

He is sufficiently recovered to occasionally visit the roque court and watch the game. He has also been down town a few times to the office of The Farm of which he is proprietor.

DODDS FUNERAL THIS MORNING

Charles Dodds passed away at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at 475 South Mauvasterre street. He was the son of J. W. and Sophie Hatfield Dodds and was born in Schuyler county, Oct. 13, 1873.

He was married to Miss Bertha Newell March 28, 1896, and 33 years ago removed from Schuyler to Morgan county. He settled on a farm east of the city, where he resided for thirty years. Three years ago he removed to farm south of Murrayville.

Mrs. Dodds died last March 26. Deceased is survived by two brothers, Watson and Grove Dodds, residing near Rushville, and one sister, Mrs. Grace Loubheim of Twin Falls, Idaho.

The remains were removed to the Williamson Funeral home, where brief services will be held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, in charge of Rev. George Hayes. The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock from the Christian church in Frederick, with interment in Julett cemetery.

the erection of a gigantic 120-foot watch tower and observation post to be set up in Jacksonville, Ill., as a laboratory for the study of the earth's curvature and general topographic layout are being completed here by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The U. S. Survey today erected an experimental tower here before a group of the nation's leading scientists. This was done preliminary to projecting its vast network across the country to include Jacksonville as a focal point.

The Jacksonville tower will look like a giant cornucopia composed of two towers, one side the other. It will be built shortly after experiments on the model tower here are completed.

Station at Waverly

Washington, July 1.—(AP)—Capt. R. S. Patton, director of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, said today federal surveyors throughout the northern half of the nation were pressing forward with their geodetic triangulation to establish permanent geographical markers.

This work started many years ago, he said, "receiving routine attention, with our workers erecting their usual temporary towers, making their surveys, reporting their geometrical discoveries, and passing on to new fields."

Triangulation crews arrive, set up their towers, making their observations, chiefly by night, then wreck the tower and move on. Patton said.

"The only permanent thing about our work," said Patton, "is the marker which is buried so deeply in the soil that it cannot be altered by the elements. These markers are of inestimable value because it provides points from which real estate, highway, or other surveys can be made."

Meanwhile, triangulation parties are now working on the Union City, Ind., to Quincy, Ill., project, stationed at Waverly, Ill.

The proposed erection of such a tower in or near Jacksonville is a part of the work now being carried on by the geodetic survey through this section of the state. Such a party of government surveyors are now encamped in the north edge of Waverly. The party is composed of nearly 100 men.

When the government workers come to Jacksonville they are expected to camp at Nichols' park. Where the tower and other apparatus will be set up is not yet determined.

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE" IS LESSON SUBJECT

"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, yesterday.

The Golden Text was "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (1 Peter 2:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 1:7, 13).

The lesson sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith" (P. 847).

GOPHER DAMAGE IS FURTHER THREAT TO WITHERED PASTURES

Urbana, Ill., July 2.—With forage plants and pastures already at a low ebb owing to the recent drought, Illinois farmers can well afford to apply control methods to prevent further damage by prevalent ground squirrels or "gophers," says G. C. Oederkirk, of the U. S. Biological Survey.

Destruction by these field rodents, which are particularly common in the northern half of the state, may not appear large in individual fields, but in the aggregate it costs farmers thousands of dollars annually, Oederkirk said. He is cooperating with the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and the Illinois State Natural History Survey in the control of such pests.

Summer injury caused by both the striped and grey squirrels may be controlled with little time and expense by either calcium cyanide fumigant or strychnine-coated oat bait. The former method consists of depositing a teaspoonful of calcium cyanide dust in the burrow and then placing a piece of sod over the hole. The gas given off by the chemical will soon kill the squirrels.

By this spoon method, a pound of calcium cyanide fumigant will treat between 20 and 40 burrows, or if applied with a dust gun a pound will be enough for 75 to 100 burrows. The chemical can be purchased at most drug stores at small cost. Care should be taken in handling calcium cyanide, as the gas is poisonous to man as well as animal life.

If the ground squirrels are unusually numerous, the whole oat bait is the more practical method of control. This is prepared by mixing one tablespoonful of goss tarch in one-half teacup of cold water and stirring this into one-half pint of boiling water to make a thin, clear paste. Also, one ounce of powdered strychnine, mixed with one ounce of baking soda, and this stirred into the starch to make a smooth, creamy mass free of lumps. Into this is next stirred one-fourth pint of heavy corn syrup and one tablespoon of glycerin, and finally one scant teaspoon of saccharine. This mixture is then applied to 20 quarts of clean, whole oats and mixed thoroughly to coat each kernel.

If scattered at the rate of no more than one tablespoonful around each burrow or along gopher runways, one quart of poisoned grain is sufficient for 40 to 60 baits. It should not be distributed in piles as it may attract and poison birds. Since the preparation is extremely poisonous, all containers and utensils used in this work should be labeled plainly and kept out of the reach of children, trespassing persons and livestock.

VISIT RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitzgerald, daughter Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Frank U. Correa, spent Sunday at the home of his brother, William, at Sheffield, Ill. Calhoun Apple Crop Exceeds Prediction

Jerseyville, July 2.—Apple buyers from the Chicago area are thronging to the Calhoun, Greene and Jersey county apple growing districts and making a checkup of the growing apple crop.

Allen Inmann of Jerseyville who operates a retail store in Jerseyville and two in Calhoun county reported Saturday that the apple crop in Calhoun county was going to surpass the early reports by a considerable margin.

"The crop is growing well," stated Inmann, "and there will be a much larger crop of fruit than growers were reporting at the beginning of the season."

Buyers are invading the Calhoun area but there have been no actual sales of orchards. It was reported that Lorschbach Brothers' orchards had received an offer of $40,000 for the crop now growing. No deal has been closed and other growers of the county are waiting to see what the ultimate outcome of the deal between the Lorschbach interests and the Chicago buyers may be.

The Lorschbach interests in the fruit growing field are extensive and lesser growers of Calhoun base their demands on the standard established by the Lorschbach deals.

There will be very few peaches produced for commercial shipment in Calhoun this season. The orchards of Calhoun have reached such an age that all peach tree fillers have been cut out, reducing the acreage and number of producing trees to a minimum.

There will be a number of peaches produced in Jersey this year in young orchards. Chief among commercial orchards to produce a good crop will be the orchard owned by Miss Jane Shackelford and Melvin Johnson of Jerseyville. Miss Shackelford's orchard is near the Marquette State park, and Johnson's orchard is situated in Rosedale township.

Charles Ringhausen of Jerseyville who is part owner in a 1000 acre tract of orchard controlled by Ringhausen

Here's Idea of Stratosphere Balloon's Size in Huge Bowl

The thousands of visitors expected at the start of the stratosphere flight of Maj. William E. Kepner and Capt. A. W. Stevens from the natural bowl near Rapid City, S. D., will look down upon a sight somewhat like this—excepting that 27-story skyscraper! They'll see a huge flabby bag waving upwards three-fourths the height of the surrounding 400-foot cliffs, with a nine-foot gondola hanging to it. The building is there to give you a better idea of the balloon's size.

Austin McPherson Scott, Greene Corn-Hog Work Near End

The death of Austin A. McPherson of 513 North Pine street occurred at a local hospital after a lingering illness. Mr. McPherson was well known both in Jacksonville and Scott county, where he formerly resided.

He had been a resident of this city since 1920, and was employed at the Eli Bridge Company factory for a number of years.

Mr. McPherson was born Nov. 17, 1896 near Manchester, a son of Fred G. and Alice Windsor McPherson. He was united in marriage with Miss Wilma Walker Dec. 24, 1920.

Surviving are his wife, one son, Weldon, and one daughter, Joane Ethel; his father and stepmother; one brother, Dorsey McPherson and one sister, Edith of near Manchester. Mr. McPherson was a member of the Manchester Baptist church and Urania Lodge No. 243, I.O.O.F., of this city.

The remains were prepared for burial at the Williamson Funeral Home, and will be removed to the residence on Pine street Tuesday noon.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Manchester Baptist church, with interment in the Manchester cemetery.

Champaign, Ill., July 2.—(AP)—Six Illinois counties have completed one of the last major steps preliminary to receiving checks for their share of approximately $35,000,000 to be paid to Illinois farmers in AAA corn hog benefit payments.

The six counties which have adjusted the contracts of their farmers to meet quotas of corn and hog production as set by the state board of review are Cook, Calhoun, Bond, Lawrence, Gallatin and Will. Thirteen others, Boone, Saline, Williamson, Monroe, Wabash, Effingham, Fayette, Madison, Scott Greene, Logan, De Witt and LaSalle, are near meeting their quotas. A. J. Surratt, chairman of the board of review, said: "Contracts must be typed in final form, signed by cooperating farmers and sent to Washington after necessary clearance papers have been obtained from the state board of review. Officials of agriculture adjustment administration have assured signers that checks for benefit payments will be mailed just as soon as possible after receipt of the contracts at Washington."

EVIL RAMPANT SAYS SPEAKER AT UNION MEET

Another large congregation gathered on the lawn of the Grace M. E. church Sunday night for the union service under the auspices of the Protestant churches of the city.

Rev. W. A. Richards was in charge of the program, and introduced Rev. C. M. Powell who led in prayer; Rev. E. E. Maderia, who read the scripture lesson, and Rev. G. J. Schillerstrom, who conducted the offertory. Miss Ainslie Moore rendered a soprano solo "The Lord Is My Shepherd," accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Martin. The closing prayer was given by Rev. Harley Marsh, with benediction by Rev. F. A. Havichurst.

The preacher of the evening was the Rev. W. C. Meeker, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church who used as his subject, "Be Ye Separate," from the text in 2 Corinthians 6:17. "Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." He said in part:

"Good character is developed by conflict with evil. The Bible teaches the necessity for Christians living their daily lives in contact with evil and sinful people. There is contact with evil, but there should be no contamination from sin. Jesus entreated "I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil." And St. Paul warning against evil, admitted the necessity for a daily contact; otherwise one "must needs go out of the world."

"Periodically however the limit is reached. Evil becomes too rampant. It is the genius of our religion, under such circumstances to effect a complete separation from sinners and their sin. It is at such times that the voice of God is heard in the immemorial command 'Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate.'"

Abraham's Sacrifice
"An early example is found in the case of Abraham. He worshipped Chaldeans. That, under more favorable circumstances, he could develop the true religion, the Almighty commanded 'Get out from thy country—to a land that I shall show thee; and I will bless thee and through thee all the earth shall be blessed.' He did this. A great temporal sacrifice was made; but greater spiritual reward accrued.

"A second instance of protest against extreme evil we find in the Hebrew exodus from Egypt. The tribe of Jacob migrated there for food, and colonized in the land. Being prolific, they multiplied rapidly until the Egyptians made slaves of them, and persecuted them. Their cry went up to God, who answered 'I will bring you out from under Egypt; I will redeem you; I will be to you a God.' They obeyed the command, came out from among the heathen, and developed a people through whom God sent His Son into the world as our Saviour.

"A more modern instance of this genius of our religion we note in the case of our Pilgrim fathers. Weary of having a state religion foisted upon them in England, they organized independent groups all over the country, and were known as non-conformists. They were discriminated against, and persecuted. The limit was reached. The command rang in their ears, 'Come out from among them.' Through much sacrifice, the Mayflower landed them in New England. With the Bible and God's Spirit as guide they developed a free church under a free government, to which we are heirs. They were the pioneers of the nation whose birth we celebrate this week.

The Call Sounds Again
"While we today need not migrate to a new country, present conditions are such that the call sounds again. 'Come ye out from among them and be ye a separate.' Evil is again rampant, and seeks the upper hand. Christians must stand out different from the sinful world. We must show our colors. Let me cite two cases where such a protest is now demanded.

"There is a growing sentiment for the revival of all forms of gambling. Race track betting is being legalized almost everywhere; and there is a constant demand for the return of the nefarious lottery. Christians must make no compromise. We must separate ourselves from every appearance of evil, and use our organized strength to prevent backward moves.

"Another evil which has reached the saturation point is the exhibition of indecent moving pictures. Protests from separate churches, parent teachers' associations, women's clubs, have availed little or nothing. The Christian public is now thoroughly aroused, and the hour has come to strike. We will do well to join the Roman Catholic Legion of Decency, and pledge ourselves to attend no theater which continues to show shady pictures. The call again sounds 'Come out from among them and be ye separate.'"

Rev. Aric Vanderhorst will be the preacher next Sunday night with the Rev. F. M. Shults presiding.

Do these tawny jungle beasts have Live Power? . . . ask ALLEN KING!

Breath-taking feature of the 1934 World's Fair is the sight of Allen King in the Standard Oil Live Power Show.

On every side he is surrounded by the tawny citizenry of the jungle. A King's bidding more than a score of lions and tigers—jungle born and jungle bred—give a thrilling exhibition of Live Power as it exists in the animal kingdom.

To see this Standard Oil Live Power Show alone is worth a trip to the World's Fair.

Does Standard Red Crown Superfuel have more LIVE POWER per gallon?

—ask anyone who has tried it . . .

THE odds are easily 20 to 1 that your neighbor in gasoline alley can tell you how much this extra Live Power means to an automobile engine.

For midwest motorists by the thousands are enjoying, and profiting by this important advance by Standard's refining engineers—the release of extra, live, driving energy in Standard Red Crown Superfuel. Slower, heavier units of already great gasoline are now converted into keener, faster fractions.

More Live Power per gallon will get across its story quickly in your engine. When you try Superfuel, expect your car to get away faster; expect high sustained speed without crowding your engine; expect to swoop up grades; expect new operating economy. You won't be disappointed. Superfuel has the quality—the extra, Live Power in reserve—to make good with a vengeance. That we know.

Take on a tankful of More Live Power!

YANKEES SHUTOUT RED SOX 5 TO 0

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Lefty Gomez finally won his 13th game of the season today, when he held the Boston Red Sox to seven scattered hits as the New York Yankees won 5 to 0 for their eighth straight victory. The triumph was Gomez's third shutout of the season.

The Yankee southpaw, turned back in his last two tries for No. 13, never was in danger, only two Red Sox players getting as far as third base. Eddie Morgan arrived at third on a triple in the first inning and Carl Reynolds reached that station in the ninth on a single and two outs.

Babe Ruth was still out of the lineup, recovering from a slight attack of pettenne poisoning contracted in Washington.

GIANTS WAYLAY BRAVES 7 TO 4

Boston, July 2.—(AP)—The combination of 13 New York hits and uncertain support back of Bob Smith gave the Giants a 7 to 4 decision over the Boston Braves today. The victory was the champions' seventh in nine games played with the Braves this year.

The Giants bunched four hits, including Travis Jackson's 13th home run of the year, to score four runs in the seventh and break a 3-3 deadlock. The world champions counted their first three runs in a cluster in the third, combining hits by Critz, O'Doul and Ott with an infield out and an error.

Another former Illinois College lad is doing his bit of hurling this year. He is Joe Yurek, of Diverson, who played football for the college a few years ago. He is now a pitcher with the Bloomington Moose. Sunday he uncorked a double in the seventh inning to drive in the winning run against the Illinois Valley All-Stars of Peru.

We understand that there has been an error regarding the stand the State Hospital forces have taken on Twilight league ball this year. Burt May told one of this column's reporters that the Bushnell and Bushnell object to allowing his State Hospital ball players to compete in the Twilight loop, but merely stated that when the Redlegs had a game, he would expect them to play with the Hospital and not with a Twilight team.

The Redlegs will meet the Mac's Cloisters of Beardstown here Fourth of July in the second of their games this season. The Cloisters played here Decoration Day, and probably will be back again Labor Day.

Baseball interest continues to pick-up. A little late in getting started, the spectators are beginning to rally around the national pastime in bigger numbers than for the first two months of the season.

ROADHOUSE DOWNS MORGANITES; MAKE 17 ERRORS IN GO

Everything seemed to go wrong Sunday at the Nichols park diamond when the Roadhouse Blues chalked up a 15-10 victory over the Morganites. 17 errors being chalked up during the nine innings of throwing and fumbling. Ed Lawless, flinging for the Morganites allowed 15 hits, eleven off two Roadhouse pitchers. After a comparatively quiet first inning, things went up in the second frame when the Blues got three hits in to six tallies. Roadhouse batted around, and two of the players who opened the inning came up again before the Morganites wound up a lot of errors.

The spasm seemed to be with the Morgan club in the third when they gave up five runs on five hits, a walk and two errors. From then on they played baseball, but couldn't overcome the handicap they had imposed upon themselves. They drove Gibbons off the mound with a six run rally in the fifth, using only two blows along with three walks to get their runs.

The veteran Pete Rees came to the mound in the sixth, gave up two more runs, and then settled down to allow only three hits during the last three frames.

SECOND ROUND OF PLAY BEGINS IN NICHOLS TOURNEY

All Favorites Survive First Round—Will Complete Second Round of Play Next Monday—Tight Matches Mark First Round.

Favorites pulled through their opening matches in the Nichols Park Match play tournament, during the week, setting the stage for the second round of play which gets underway immediately. The second round matches, which will name the semi-finalists in each of the flights, will be completed by next Monday night.

Tight matches marked the opening round, indicating that there will be a battle every inch of the way for the players remaining in the tournament.

Floyd Craft, the defending city champion and Nichols Park match play champion, will meet Paul McGrew in his second round match. Craft defeated "Bud" Lair in his first round match 3 up 2, while McGrew, with a 78, turned back Roy White by the same kind of a score. Craft shot a 70 to win from Lair.

Allen Brennan staged a comeback yesterday to fire his way into the second round, with a victory over Don Michaels 5 up 4. Brennan lost the first three holes, won the next four, and finished with five holes in a row. Brennan tied with Craft in the qualifying round with a 72.

The pairings and results:

Dodgers whip Phillies 7-5

Brooklyn, July 2.—(AP)—A 14 hit attack, featuring a pair of home runs by Len Koenecke, enabled the Brooklyn Dodgers to win the first of the series with the Phillies today, 7 to 5.

Koenecke's first homer started a four-run rally that knocked Gorge Darrow out of the box in the first inning. The Brooklyn center fielder connected with his second circuit drive in the seventh with the bases empty.

John Babich, Pacific Coast league recruit, and Emil Leonard were hit freely by the Phillies but the Dodgers kept peppering Syl Johnson and Phil Collins just enough to stay in front. Babich received credit for the victory, his first in three starts in major league competition.

Lonnie Warneke Pitches Fine Ball And Cubs Beat Cardinals 7-4; Three Red Birds Chased

Chicago, July 2.—(AP)—Driving Paul Dean from the mound in a riotous seventh inning that saw manager Frankie Frisch and two Cardinals banished from the field, the Cubs took the opener of a two-game series from St. Louis today, 7 to 4.

Lonnie Warneke out-pitched the younger of the Dean brothers for his season's 11th victory. Warneke held the Cards to seven hits and no earned runs for his third victory over them this year.

Frisch, coach Mike Gonzales and pitcher Dizzy Dean were ordered to the club house by umpire-in-chief Bill Klem for protesting a decision at this plate in the seventh, when the Cubs picked up four runs to go with three scored in the third inning for their victory total.

With the bases filled, one out and one run already home as a result of singles by Hurst, Warneke, W. Herman and English, Chuck Klein lifted a tall pop fly in front of the plate. Catcher Delancey seemingly was set to catch the ball when it took a freakish turn. He missed it, but recovered in time to make a play at the plate on Warneke. However, he threw wildly to the plate and Warneke scored.

The Cards immediately protested that the ball should have been ruled an infield fly in which case Klein would have been automatically out and, supposedly, Warneke would have remained on third rather than risk "advancing at his own peril." The protests were furious but futile. The result was the wholesale chasing.

Later Klem explained to newspapermen that in his opinion Delancey was not in a position to catch the ball, therefore it could not have been called an infield fly.

The game was continued under protest.

City Council Hears Proposal For Sale Of Natural Gas Here

(Continued From Page Twelve) In the sales tax law, and the other was that the city could prove that selling was a service and not a commodity. The council adopted a resolution expressing its esteem of the late J. J. Reeve, three times mayor of the city, who died June 3. The resolution was ordered spread on the minutes of the meeting and a copy was ordered sent to Mr. Reeve.

Name Health Warden
Dr. Frederick Englebach was appointed city health warden by the council, and will head the health department without pay. The appointment was made upon Mayor Webb's suggestion, when he explained his services, and that at present there was no head to the health department. He will serve without compensation, and will set up a program for the department.

The city treasurer was ordered to clear up the title on property owned by A. H. Schilling, the title of which is clouded by special assessment charges. The assessments were spread against the property in 1901, and were to be paid out in ten years. Mr. Schilling stated that he paid the assessments as part of his general taxes, and records in the sheriff's office bear out his statement. However, records in the city treasurer's office fail to show that the money was received. All bonds against the assessment have been cleaned up, the city attorney explained, and the council decided to accept the county sheriff's records. Two other properties were brought to the attention of the council in a successful effort to have a division made of the special assessments due. Both owners are attempting to secure loans from the Home Owners Loan Corporation, which requires that all special assessment charges against the properties be satisfied before loans can be granted.

Frank Hagan was granted the right to install city water at his office upon payment of the proper fees and paying for the equipment and labor for the job. Basil Sorrells also received permission from the council to hold a carnival here next week under the sponsorship of the American Legion.

Reports from the chief of police, Justice C. S. Smith, Board of Managers of the Jacksonville Cemeteries, Water Department, and city clerk's office were read and placed on file. The report of the Liquor Control Commission, showing receipts of $107, which has been turned over to the city treasurer, also was read.

HARRY COOPER WINS PRO TITLE

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—Harry Cooper, veteran Chicago pro, won his third straight tournament today—the Illinois professional title—and for the third straight time had to go overtime to do it. At the end of the regulation 36 holes, Cooper and Dick Metz, another Chicagoan, were tied at 149. Cooper maintained his place in the 18-hole playoff, scoring a 74 to Metz's 81. Cooper won the Western Open and Illinois Open tournaments during the past three weeks, in playoffs with Ky Laffoon of Denver and Tommy Armour of Chicago, respectively.

Six others qualified for the National P. G. A. 114 tournament at Buffalo, N. Y., July 24-29. They were Jim Noonan, 150; Tommy Armour, 151; Eddie Loeb, 152; Joe Paletti, 153; Frank Walsh, 153; and Jim Foulis, the 1933 winner, 153. The latter three were tied with Abe Espinosa for the last place at the end of 36 holes. Espinosa, however, lost out in the first hole of the playoff, taking a five to par four for the others.

ANDY HIGH SIGNED

Philadelphia, July 2.—(P)—Andy (Good Luck) High, veteran infielder in the National League, signed with the Phillies today for the remainder of the season.

Injuring his ankle at the start of the season while with Cincinnati, High was out six weeks, then managed the Syracuse club of the International league until relieved recently.

High saw service with the Cards, Braves, Dodgers and Reds at various times and is a veteran of three world's series with a batting average of .294. His major league average was .286. His knack for hitting well in tight places and helping teams out of slumps earned him his nickname.

SHOULD SMOKE PIPE

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—After this Walter Sang, 20, may learn that a pipe is for smoking purposes only.

Today, according to police charges, he entered a shoe store, shoved a straight-stemmed pipe into the manager's ribs, pretending it was a revolver, and made away with $224. He was captured after a bullet-punctured chase in the loop. In his cell he asked for a cigaret.

SILVER KING WINS RAINY DAY STAKES

Cleveland, July 2.—(P)—A mild upset came with the annual renewal of the $3,000 Rainy Day Sweepstakes for 2-year-old trotters at the Grand circuit meet at North Randall this afternoon when Silver King, owned by E. J. Meekle, Columbus, O., and driven by Fred Egan, won the race.

Silver King won the first heat and seemed destined to win the second when he made a bad break, finishing last. This heat went to Belvedere from the Reynolds stable, driven by Tommy Berry. M. Liss, owned by the P. W. Harvey estate of Cleveland and driven by Harry Stokes, furnished the only contention.

The veteran Speck Eskine won the 2:14 class trot in straight heats with Angel Child, belonging to A. O. Taylor of Mayfield, Ky.

Eskine made it a double for the day when he won the 2:22 class with Peter Paul after a four-heat battle which brought an avalanche of long shots, including Walter's teen, which paid $236 for $2 to place the second heat; Alice O'Guy, $126 for $2 to place the third heat; and Walter's Queen, which paid $26 for $2 to win the third heat. In the run-off the grey gelding proved best.

Manchester

Red and White Grocers nosed out the Morgan Dairy nine in a fight to the finish on the Nichols Park diamond last night in the Y.M.C.A. league, battling back Dairy rally which had the tying and winning runs on base and then scoring the winning run of a 5-4 victory.

Sulo Mattson, former Zeigler pitcher, turned in the first shut-out of the season at the high school diamond when the Myers Brothers Clothiers stopped Lynnville's ascendancy into first place in the league with a batting attack that netted 11 runs. Mattson didn't give a hit up to the fifth inning with the Lynnville lads registered two safe bowls.

Two more games will be played tonight before the teams in the league take a day off to shoot firecrackers. Thursday night they will resume play and wind up the week on Friday.

Grocers Snag One
The Grocers grabbed a pair of runs in the opening frame on two blows, followed by a pair of walks and an error. The Dairy lads came back with a tally in the first on a walk, followed by Moline's double. They went ahead in the second when Gardner poked out a triple with two men on the paths, but fell behind in the third when Burkley was hit with a pitched ball. Mann singled, and two men walked, scoring Burkley and Mann.

Ralph Cooney struck out to open the Grocer half of the fifth. Mann rapped a single and went to third on an error which left Brown set on base. Mann was thrown out at the plate, but Brown scored the winning run to break up the ball game.

The Dairy men had their chance in the fifth when Gardner walked, advanced on a single, and scored on a moved up another notch on J. Chumbe's walk. Moline flied to center, Gardner scoring after the catch for the only run. Duffer rolling out.

Mattson Features Game
Mattson's two hit pitching was easily the feature of the game at the high school field. He was assisted by two sparkling double plays and almost perfect support from his mates, while the Lynnville club was still struggling to shake off the error jinx.

The Clothiers got off to a six run start in the opening frame, and picked up a couple more runs in the second with Duffer's fourth to score two more runs.

GRAIN VALUES MOVE LOWER

By John P. Boughan

Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, July 2.—(P)—Notable inadequacy of speculative buying went hand in hand today with lower prices for grain, despite the fact that July unofficial crop estimates were bullish.

Vanishing of demand became so pronounced at times that neither in wheat nor in corn was the market readily able to absorb moderate selling to realize profits. As a result, numerous stop-loss orders were forced into execution. Acting as a weight on wheat values was continued liberal movement of newly harvested grain in the southwest.

Wheat closed weak at the day's lowest level, 21-21 1/2 cents under Saturday's finish, corn 11-11 1/2 down, oats 1-1/2 off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

Apparently, most traders were not prepared to take hold on the buying side of grains unless the July crop estimates proved to be a great deal more bullish than was actually the case.

The average of today's estimates indicated 1934 total domestic wheat production would be 517,000,000 bushels, against official July estimate of 517,000,000 bushels and against unofficial June estimate of 500,000,000 bushels.

The average of unofficial estimates

today on 1934 corn production, 2-

334,000,000 bushels, was practically the same as last year, but 250,000,000 bushels below a 10-year average.

Traders, however, seemingly disregarded extreme shortage of oats and other feed grains. Heavy liquidation and corn following the issuance of the crop estimates, and both grains tumbled more than 2 cents a bushel, with corn showing better rallying power than wheat did.

Oats production was unofficially estimated at about half a normal amount. As a result, oats prices were accorded relatively more support than was given to wheat or corn.

Provisions reflected downturns of hog values and of grains.

State Police Here to Warn Violators

A squad of five state patrolmen got busy in Jacksonville Monday and what they are doing is said to be plenty. The officers are working along the state routes within the city to catch those motorists who violate the vehicle and traffic laws.

They are especially interested in failures to heed boulevard stops at state highways. The officers commented Monday on the many violations of this rule along West College avenue and insisted that motorists are very careless, especially after dark.

Those caught violating such boulevard stops will be sent to the justice courts. If the motorists do not check their lights and the same are found to be out, the owners will also have to visit the court. The officers say they are going to enforce all state regulations.

At the same time their presence here is significant of an educational campaign. Due to the paving construction on South Main street, there have been several new stops created and some of them where motorists least expect them. Local police have been working on this traffic problem for some time and have the public pretty well educated as to the new traffic routes and rulings.

SIX YEAR OLD BOY HAS FRACTURED ARM

Lloyd Bruce, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bruce of 529 West Chambers street, fell Sunday afternoon while playing at the Nichols Park playground and injured his left arm. He was taken to the Passavant hospital where an X-ray revealed a fracture.

The injury was treated by Dr. Paul B. Hartley after which the boy was able to return to his home.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Faith, young and comely orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy young business man. She informs Mark that she is leaving her position to marry Kimberley Farrell, handsome young lawyer, to whom she has been engaged for some time. Invited to Kim's house for dinner, Mary Faith is greeted coldly by his mother. Later, Kim startles Mary Faith by breaking his engagement and asking for the ring. The next morning, Mary Faith informs her co-workers that she is not to be married. She asks them to take back their presents. After working late, Mark Nesbit takes Mary Faith to dinner and home to her boarding house in his car. Slowly Mary Faith learns to live her life without Kim. When Mark Nesbit injures his ankle, Mary Faith is driven to his country home to take dictation. She meets his mother and enjoys the charming home life of the Nesbits. Jean Bartlett, Mary Faith's office friend, laughingly tells her she should marry Mark Nesbit.

CHAPTER XI

"I may go down to the office tomorrow," he told her at the end of the afternoon. "I can get around pretty well now with a cane, and I'd like to be on the job just now at the close of the year."

Mary Faith shook her head. "Oh, I think you ought to wait for a few days before you try it, Mr. Nesbit. The stairs in the building are so steep and the floors are so slippery."

But the next morning when she got down to the office there was a light burning behind the frosted-glass pane in his door.

"Great Galusha's back on the job this morning, Miss Fenton," Stanley Odeskalki told her, looking up from the typewriter that he was oiling. "Gee, if I was my own boss, the way he is, I bet I wouldn't come down to work on a rainy day. I'd stay home for another month."

At half past nine exactly the buzzer on Mary Faith's desk sounded. She got up and carried the morning mail into Mark Nesbit's office, just as she had carried it in to him at half past nine every morning for years.

It was on the tip of her tongue to say to him, "Well, you made it, I see. But you know you ought to have stayed at home."

All she did say, however, was "Good morning, Mr. Nesbit," just as she had always said it, in a polite office-voice.

"Good morning, Mary Faith," he smiled at her gravely as he picked up one of the envelopes that she laid before him on the desk. "Will you please ask Bassett to come up here in about ten minutes?"

Everything was just as it always had been. Like magic both of them clicked back into the well-oiled office machinery of the Nesbit Mercantile Company.

And yet there was a difference. That noon he came limping into her office and stood beside her desk. He had on his overcoat and his hat and brief-case were in his hand.

"Good-bye, Mary Faith," he said. "Don't work late. Remember it's Saturday. . . . I'm going to miss you at lunch today. We've had some pretty good talks the last couple of weeks, haven't we?"

City Council Hears Proposal For Sale Of Natural Gas Here

Further study of an ordinance submitted to the city by persons interested in selling natural gas to the city was agreed upon last night at a meeting of the city council after the aldermen had three men who are backing the proposal explain their stand. The council also adopted a new parking ordinance which will prohibit parking on one side of the narrow streets off the square, rescind its resolution calling for the resurfacing of the public square, and passed resolutions calling for the repaving of North Main street from Walnut to the city limits and for one block in each direction from South Main street on College avenue.

The council heard talks from Henry K. Williams of Tulsa, Oklahoma, J. E. Swann, and Don Gray, both of Louisville, Kentucky, who are interested in securing a franchise from the city for the sale of natural gas at a saving estimated from 50 to 75 percent of the price now being paid for gas. Unwilling to come to a decision immediately, the council decided to call in two interested citizens who are acquainted with the low Representative Hugh Green and Judge Walter Wright, to confer with City Attorney O'Connell as to the legality of the proposal.

Mr. Gray, who said he was president of the National Gas Corp., and was connected with several other concerns, told the council that the company which will finance the proposed project, already has been incorporated in Delaware as Don Gray, Inc., and that not a single share of stock in the company will be sold. It was estimated that the cost of piping gas from the Alexander field, from which it is proposed to get natural gas, and the placing of a distribution system in the city, would cost from $200,000 to $300,000.

Explaining the operations of the larger companies which are transporting gas through pipe lines, Mr. Swann said that it has been the custom to incorporate four or five different companies through which the gas passes before it is delivered to the consumer. The result is that each company makes a profit on the transaction, thereby raising the delivered price. Original purchasers of the gas at the wells are paying two cents for each thousand feet and by the time the gas is delivered to the consumer, the cost reaches alarming percentages, he pointed out.

Use of the pipe lines to convey sulphurous gas to firms interested in the commercial by-products of this type of gas, also was explained. Asked about the quality of the gas in the Alexander field, he said he had seen it in use at Alexander, but had made no tests, other than to open several wells throughout the territory yesterday. He declared that he was not worried either about the quality or the quantity.

Mr. Williams told of the history of the plan to use natural gas in this city. He said he had met W. A. Wainwright, the mayor, when Mr. Wainwright was in Oklahoma, and that he stopped here on another mission about two months ago. At that time he was shown the Alexander field, and promised to investigate the field and possibilities of financing installation of a natural gas distributing plant here. He said he returned to Oklahoma, and got in touch with Mr. Swann, who in turn put him in touch with Mr. Gray.

Pointing out that the contract, in the form of a franchise and an ordinance, did not require the city to put up a single cent, and that the contract was to be held in escrow until the city council was satisfied that the company in charge of installing and maintaining the distribution system was acting in good faith, Don Gray told the council that he believed it would be possible to pipe the gas in here and sell at for 90 cents a thousand feet, and still make a profit for the group which will finance the project. The company will install all equipment and will give a bond for every cent of the expenses of setting up the plant, he added.

Although the council was asked to vote on the ordinance at first, by the mayor, it was decided to call until two citizens, who were to be invited by the council, had an opportunity to study the contract. The three men interested in the project accepted the proposal and urged speed. Their reason for asking speed was that they will have to make several tests before they are able to begin operations, and they were not certain how much time and how much money will be needed to conduct tests. They did not wish to invest much money until they were positive they could obtain a franchise.

The ordinance submitted to the council is a copy of an ordinance now in force in Muskogee, Okla., where the firm which is backing the Jacksonville venture installed a natural gas system a few years ago, according to their statements.

Asks Legal Advice. Alderman Harlan Williamson suggested that before the council take any action, two citizens acquainted with the law be called in to confer with City Attorney O'Connell. He named Representative Green and Judge Wright, and the council went on record as favoring the plan. City Attorney O'Connell expressed his appreciation to the council for inviting these men in to a conference.

The old problem of what to do with the city's share of the gasoline taxes bobbed up again when Mayor Wainwright presented two resolutions, one providing for the repaving of North Main street, and the other for repaving College avenue. Alderman Roy Conlee, who has been battling for the College avenue project for a long time, brought up the issue again by claiming that he was not notified when Mr. Slaymaker of the State Highway department visited in Jacksonville, and that he had not heard recommendations that the public square be the first project to be attempted under the gasoline tax law provision.

Conlee declared that in his conference with Slaymaker at Springfield he was told that the College

HOLD FUNERAL AT VIRGINIA FOR M. B. PETEFISH

Middleton Funeral Services
To Be Conducted This Afternoon

Virginia, July 2.—Funeral services for M. B. Petefish, member of a prominent pioneer family, were held at the late residence this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. J. W. Armstrong of this city, assisted by Rev. J. C. Shull of this city, and Rev. D. F. Nelson of Abingdon.

Interment was made in Walnut Ridge cemetery with the following casketbearers: Frank Fox, James Fox, James Masten, Vernon Noblett, Burton Schaeffer, Albert Winger, Emil Collins, and Glen Chilton.

Mr. Petefish, a resident of Cass county his entire life, passed away at the family residence in this city Friday evening, at the age of 69 years. He was prominent in farming and social circles in this city, and a director of the local Petefish Skiles & Co. bank.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Anna Freeman, and one son William; also two sisters, Mrs. F. C. Wilson, and Mrs. G. W. Rexroat all of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. J. Neiger, Mrs. Lou Petefish, Mrs. R. V. Prather and sons of Springfield; and Mrs. Pearl Bley of Beardstown were among those from out of town to attend the funeral.

Middleton Rites. Funeral services for Ous B. Middleton will be held at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian church Tuesday in charge of Rev. J. C. Shull. A quartette composed of Mrs. L. M. Montgomery, Mrs. L. H. Skiles, P. R. Awarner, and C. R. Wilson will sing favorite songs.

Burial will be made in Walnut Ridge cemetery with the following casketbearers: Wren Scott, Walter Clark, Steve Cawood, Ralph Whitaker, Edw. Shockey, and Joe B. Mullen.

Cus B. Middleton, the son of James and Mary Middleton was born April 2, 1881 in Virginia. He united in marriage with Miss Minnie Lovins. He has been a resident of this city his entire life, following the occupation of painting. He has been ill for the past several months.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Charles and Robert Middleton both of this city; and a sister, Mrs. Chas. Turner, of Alton.

PLANS FOR COUNTY FAIR DISCUSSED AT BOARD MEETING

Name Committee to Arrange For Dedication of Grandstand

Plans for the Morgan county fair to be held next August were made at a meeting of the board of directors at the Chamber of Commerce offices last night, the president, A. D. Arnold, presiding. Reports from all committees were received.

The superintendents of the various departments submitted their proposed premium list, which was approved by the directors. The premiums will total approximately the same amount at the prize money of last year, when Morgan county ranked as the second largest fair in Illinois outside of Chicago.

A special committee was named by the directors to plan the dedication of the new grandstand during the fair. The committee includes Henry Frisch, J. W. Morrison and Dan T. Cloud.

The fair catalog was ordered printed, and it is expected that it will be ready by the first of August. The directors approved plans for the sale of 100 seats in the new grand stand. There will be 20 boxes of six seats each, and they can be reserved by calling the secretary at the Chamber of Commerce office.

EUGENE HOLMES WEDS MISS LEWIS

Miss Helen Lewis of Sinclair and Eugene Holmes of Joliet were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson Lewis near Sinclair.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Geo. M. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will reside in Joliet.

Immediately following the ceremony, a dinner was served.

The presenters were Mr. and Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Joliet; Arthur Swain, Miss Thelma Pogue, Miss Lela Trotter, Miss Catherine Lewis, Frank Lewis, Oda Lewis and Miss Mary Lewis.

FOURTH OF JULY PROCLAMATION

In view of the fact that Wednesday, July 4, will mark the 158th anniversary of the inauguration of American Independence, I, W. A. Wainwright, Mayor of Jacksonville, proclaim the day a general holiday in this city. It will be a national holiday, and it is the duty of every citizen to properly observe the day by engaging in patriotic celebrations wherever possible.

Places of business accustomed to close on Sunday will observe the Fourth of July by remaining closed all day. The uniform flag decorations will be displayed in the business district. Every citizen should display the national colors on his residence or his car.

It is urged that all who can possibly do so attend the patriotic observances here, especially the celebration at the Jacksonville State Hospital. In these times when many are questioning the very foundations of our Constitution, when American ideals are being weighed in the balance, it behooves all patriotic Americans to rally on this Independence Day and renew their allegiance to the fundamental principles of individual liberty, political equality and popular sovereignty, as expressed in our Declaration of Independence.

(Signed), W. A. WAINWRIGHT, Mayor.

SAFETY RULES FOR CAMPERS ARE OUTLINED

Six "Warnings" To Vacationists Are Listed By Life Saving Chairman

At the beginning of the three summer vacation months, Wilson Vorbeck, chairman of life saving for the Morgan County Chapter Red Cross, offers a seasonal set of safety rules for campers:

1. Drive carefully. Have car inspected in advance. Heed speed limits and road signs.

2. Camping. In camping, erect your tent in a clear space or else clear the ground about it, removing debris and weeds, to keep down insects. Keep a flashlight handy at night. Provide a first aid kit with household remedies for simple ailments, cuts and bites. Quench embers before retiring or leaving camp site.

3. Tan gradually. Sunburn has caused serious illness and spoiled many an outing. Get your tan gradually by exposing the skin to the direct rays of the sun a few minutes each day until the skin is sufficiently tanned.

4. Swim safely. Most drownings are caused by individuals swimming alone, swimming too far from shore, swimming too soon after eating, attempting to swim to shore from a capsized boat or canoe, and diving into shallow water.

5. Avoid poison ivy. Learn what it looks like. If by accident one gets in contact with the plant, wash immediately and thoroughly, with warm water and laundry soap if possible.

6. Do not eat or drink to excess. Avoid eating when overheated. Do not camp, provide refrigeration to prevent food from spoiling or contamination. Drink water only from sources certified by health authorities.

Are Conducted; Other
News Notes

Beardstown, July 2.—Funeral services for Mrs. Ella McGuire, late Beardstown resident, were held Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock with the Rev. Father Ahern of the St. Alexius Catholic Church in charge.

Mrs. McGuire was born in Ireland on July 15, 1860. She was united in marriage to John H. McGuire, of Beardstown, at Aurora, Ill., on Nov. 29, 1883. Mr. McGuire preceded her in death twenty-three years ago.

To this union three children were born, Bernard, who died in infancy and John and Mayne who reside in this city.

Those who acted as pall bearers were Tom Brannan, William Doyle, Robert Maslin, Roy Shaw, Ed Beatty, and Otto Tamm.

Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Hold Henshilde Rites

Funeral services for Joseph Henshilde of Beardstown were conducted at the First Evangelical Lutheran church at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the Rev. T. B. Epling in charge.

During the services the flowers were cared for by Mrs. Fred Ruppel and Lillian and Helen Henshilde and the vesting choir chanted the music.

The pall bearers were Louis Nolden, Henry Nolden, Charles Krueger, H. E. Krueger, Peter Henshilde and Arnold Nolden.

News Notes

C. V. Williams of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society was in Beardstown on business Sunday. While in town he addressed audiences of the various churches on behalf of the children and explained the institution's social service work, as to rehabilitating homes, boarding children in good homes, and aiding families who wished to adopt children.

After speaking in Beardstown he left on similar business for Rushville. Miss Earline Epling and the vested choir of the First Evangelical Lutheran church of Beardstown were in Meredosia, Ill., at the Comradeship Conference of Luther Leagues in that city. Miss Epling was scheduled to talk on "Mistaken Programs for Luther Leagues" and the choir furnished the music for the meetings Sunday afternoon and evening.
